DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This frame farmhouse is situated in a relatively flat area northeast of Ginseng Hill and faces east. It is a two story, three by one bay structure with a two by four, two story addition. Both sections have gable roofs. The facade has a cross-gable. Porches, supported by chamfered wooden posts, appear across the facade and on the north and south elevations of the back section of the house. The house can be entered from the central front door which includes a transom and at both porches on the north and south elevations.

An exterior brick chimney appears on the rear of the house. The house is lit by two over two windows framed by flat boards with a bead across the top. The house rests on a stone foundation. A cellar can be entered by a small enclosure on the center rear of the house. The house is covered with asphalt shingles and framed with cornerboards. The roof also is covered with asphalt shingles.
